Media clips included in this report were generated from activities undertaken or sponsored by Americans for Tax Fairness. A media clip is included that either in whole or in large part was generated by ATF or by allies that ATF provided financial or in-kind support to. Included are news stories, op-eds, editorials, opinion columns, blog posts and letters to the editor (LTEs). Editorials and columns are included when ATF is reasonably confident that it has directly influenced the media outlets or authors through editorial board memos and direct outreach.

Note: Most editorials are not included in these clips; they are provided in a separate document.

Politico Morning Tax: Apple and stock buybacks

by Bernie Becker
May 3, 2018

Apple and stock buybacks: The liberal group Americans for Tax Fairness lashed out at Apple's announcement this week that it would buy back $100 billion worth of stock, noting that's 333 times the $300 million in onetime bonuses the tech giant has offered workers. ATF also said that, by its calculations, companies are setting aside 58 times as much money for stock buybacks than bonuses or pay raises in the wake of the new tax law.

Politics USA: Marco Rubio Admits Workers Are Getting Screwed By Trump Tax Cuts

by Jason Easley
April 30, 2018

However, the real damage that is being done is in job losses, According to Americans For Tax Fairness, "A total of 96,956 private-sector job cuts have been announced at 185 companies since the tax law was passed by Congress. The actual job-loss total is higher, but some big companies, including Amazon and Wells Fargo, have not offered precise figures in their layoff announcements."

MarketWatch: Opinion: Why you should pay attention to this, and not to the unemployment rate

by Rex Nutting
May 3, 2018

Several companies announced capital-spending plans following the tax cut, but an analysis by the admittedly hostile Americans for Tax Fairness found that most of the "new" capex spending by companies such as Apple, Comcast CMCSA, +0.58% and ExxonMobil XOM, -0.47% wasn't new at all, just a continuation of previous trends.

The Hill: Medicaid is crucial to seniors and awareness is crucial to the program's survival

by Max Richtman

April 19, 2018

Even though those devastating proposals failed, Medicaid remains under assault from the right. The Trump/GOP tax cuts enacted last December will blow a $1.5 trillion hole in the national debt, inviting deep cuts to Medicaid (as well as Medicare and Social Security). Meanwhile, according to Americans for Tax Fairness, when the new tax law is fully phased in, 83 percent of the tax cuts will go to the wealthiest 1 percent.

Salon: Paul Ryan's parting gift to the rich: Yet another Republican tax cut?

by Sophia Tesfaye

April 17, 2018

A recent analysis from the pro-reform group Americans for Tax Fairness found that 433 corporations out of the Fortune 500 have not offered any bonuses or wage increase to employees since the passage of corporate tax cuts. Instead, the analysis found, companies spent 37 times as much on stock buybacks.

Newsweek: TAX DAY 2018: BIG BANKS ALREADY REAPING HUGE BENEFITS FROM TRUMP'S PLAN

by Josh Keefe

April 17, 2018

While the corporate and individual tax breaks apply to different entities, many supporters of the tax law have argued that corporate tax cuts will enrich workers. But a new analysis by the progressive group Americans for Tax Fairness found Fortune 500 companies are “getting 10 times as much in tax cuts as they are giving to workers in one-time bonuses and wage hikes.” The analysis also found those companies were spending “36 times as much on stock buybacks as they are spending on workers’ bonuses and wages.”

USA Today: Tax cut savings flow to company stockholders, trickle to hourly workers

by Adam Shell

April 13, 2018

Americans for Tax Fairness, a liberal group that recently started a website detailing what corporations are doing with their tax cuts, which dropped the corporate rate to 21% from 35%, says workers are not getting their fair share.

The group's data, culled from corporate news releases, media reports, analysts and its own research, show that only 6.3 million workers are getting a one-time bonus or pay hike tied to the cuts. That compares with a total U.S. workforce of 155.2 million, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The ATF analysis shows 126 companies have received $60.8 billion in total tax cuts, which it claims is nine times more than the $6.5 billion workers have received in bonuses and pay increases. Corporations, their data show, have spent 37 times more on stock buybacks than worker bonuses or raises since the law was enacted.

Politico Morning Tax: The Day in Tax Law Politics

by Bernie Becker, Michael Stratford

April 10, 2018

The liberal group Americans for Tax Fairness is out with a new website seeking to undercut some of the good press that Republicans have gotten from the tax law. The new site includes a database detailing how some 830 corporations have responded to the tax cuts, including whether they've bought back stock, handed out bonuses to workers, increased wages or even cut jobs — also seemingly with an eye to November. "As Tax Day approaches and Americans across the country file their taxes, the results are as we warned — corporations and their CEOs and wealthy investors are seeing massive tax cuts from Trump's tax plan, but they are not sharing the wealth with hard-working Americans and their families," said Frank Clemente, the group's executive director.

The Hill: Liberal group launches database to track corporations' response to tax law

by Naomi Jagoda

April 9, 2018

The website from Americans for Tax Fairness, called "Trump Tax Cut Truths," contains searchable data about the size of corporations' tax cuts as well as information about bonuses, wage increases, job cuts, new investments and stock buybacks companies have planned following the law's enactment. The database contains information about more than 800 companies. Americans for Tax Fairness Executive Director Frank Clemente said they launched the website to hold corporations accountable. “The results are as we warned,” Clemente said, arguing companies and their executives are seeing massive tax cuts “but they are not sharing the wealth.”

Newsweek: Trump’s Tax Cuts Didn’t Benefit American Workers, Just Made Rich Companies Richer

by Nicole Goodkind
April 10, 2018

But a new analysis of all Fortune 500 companies found only 4.3 percent of workers will receive a one-time bonus or wage increase tied to the business tax cuts, while businesses received nine times more in cuts than what they passed on to their workers, according to Americans for Tax Fairness, a political advocacy group devoted to tax reform. The analysis also found that companies spent 37 times as much on stock buybacks than they did on bonuses and increased wages for workers.

“There are too many disingenuous claims that the Trump and Republican tax cuts for corporations will trickle down to the middle class,” said Frank Clemente, executive director of Americans for Tax Fairness. “President Trump and Republicans gave huge tax cuts to big drug companies, big oil and other corporations, but corporations are giving back little—if anything—to working families,” said Clemente. “In fact, this [analysis shows] that 433 corporations out of the Fortune 500 have announced no plans to share their tax cuts with employees.”

The Nation: A Wave of Corporate Propaganda Is Boosting Trump’s Tax Cuts

by Joshua Holland
February 23, 2018

Exxon Mobil CEO Darren Woods penned a blog post crediting the tax bill for playing a major role in the company’s plans to invest $50 billion in the United States over the next five years. This generated a slew of headlines along the lines of the one that appeared in Reuters: “Exxon plans major U.S. investments due to tax reform: CEO.” But according to an analysis of the company’s financial statements by Americans for Tax Fairness, that’s actually $2.7 billion less than the company invested in the United States between 2012 and 2016. And Bloomberg reports that the company’s investments dipped in the last couple of years after oil prices crashed, and the capital-investment plan represents nothing more than “a return to the oil giant’s spending habits before crude suffered its worst price rout in a generation.” (The company’s “fourth-quarter profit nearly quintupled after President Trump’s tax cuts gave the oil giant a big lift,” according to USA Today.)

CNN : Tax cut scoreboard: Workers $6 billion; Shareholders $171 billion

by Matt Egan
February 16, 2018

"Our worst nightmare is coming true," said Frank Clemente, executive editor of Americans for Tax Fairness, a group that fights for progressive tax reform. "We predicted that the lion's share of the benefits of this tax cut would go to already-wealthy shareholders and CEOs, not to a company's workers."

Yahoo Finance: Wal-Mart's Pay Increases Hide a Dirty Secret

by Jamal Carnette

January 22, 2018

Wal-Mart (NYSE: WMT) has always been a lightning rod for the debate on living wages. Critics contend the company has built its success on the back of low-wage employees, noting that many of Wal-Mart's employees are dependent upon government assistance. In a 2004 study, Americans for Tax Fairness, a left-leaning organization, said that Wal-Mart employees cost U.S. taxpayers $6.2 billion in public assistance; the group equates this to a government handout to the company's shareholders, most notably the Walton family.

Bernie Sanders (I-VT), House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) and Rep. Keith Ellison (D-MN). Activists stayed there for the rest of the night and into the morning.

Newsweek: Op-ed: Trump’s Tax Plan Is Seriously Bad For Our Health

By Kyle Ragins
November 29, 2017

The bill would force cuts to Medicaid, Medicare, and other programs that help everyday Americans to pay for massive tax cuts for the very wealthy and big corporations. Congressional Republicans may try to pass off repeal of this portion of the ACA as a cost-saving measure for working families, but it would actually increase health care costs for millions of families, and the rest of the tax bill makes it clear that they’re focused on reducing taxes for the very wealthy and corporations – not with Americans struggling to afford visits to the doctor.

While the wage growth trends remain uncertain, the new ATF report is really what we need to talk about. If the Democrats want to win the House and Senate in the upcoming midterms, this might be a strong criticism that can be levied against Ryan and crew. According to a new analysis by Americans for Tax Fairness, only 9% of Fortune 500 companies benefited their workers. The Americans for Tax Fairness analysis found the following:

The group's data, culled from corporate news releases, media reports, analysts and its own research, show that only 6.3 million workers are getting a one-time bonus or pay hike tied to the cuts. That compares with a total U.S. workforce of 155.2 million, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The ATF analysis shows 126 companies have received $60.8 billion in total tax cuts, which it claims is nine times more than the $6.5 billion workers have received in bonuses and pay increases. Corporations, their data show, have spent 37 times more on stock buybacks than worker bonuses or raises since the law was enacted.

Common Dreams: Trump's Christmas Gift to Himself: Study Details How President Will Profit Off GOP Tax Bill

By Jake Johnson
December 23, 2017

President Donald Trump has repeatedly described the Republican tax bill he signed into law on Friday as "an incredible Christmas gift" to low-income and middle class Americans—despite the numerous analyses showing that the legislation will ultimately raise taxes on millions in the middle class.

The president hasn't, however, called the tax bill a massive "check to himself." But a new study (pdf) published on Friday by Americans for Tax Fairness (ATF) demonstrates that this would, in numerous ways, be a more accurate description of the $1.5 trillion plan.

This bill is solely about further enriching America's privileged class - a Christmas present for them, a lump of coal for most others.

According to Americans for Tax Fairness, 83% of the benefits go to the top 1%.
By 2027, taxes for 92 million middle-class households will be higher than now.
Medicaid will be severely eroded, Medicare cut by $400 billion over the next decade.

By that same year, 92 million middle-class American families will pay more in taxes. Those who represent us think that we either won't notice, or we are OK with it. They are sorely mistaken. They also hope we overlook the fact that this bill will add $1.5 trillion to $2.2 trillion to the federal deficit which will trigger automatic cuts to Medicare, Medicaid and other programs that people count on.

In Hemming Park Tuesday, in front of Republican Sen. Marco Rubio's Hogan Street office, Pastor Lee Harris of the Mt. Olive Primitive Baptist Church compared the GOP-led tax plan to some of the worst moral failings in U.S. history.

"At best this plan is a reincarnation of the trickle-down economics, which never worked. During the Reagan/Bush era it never worked. At worst, it's a kind of neo-slavery and works at the ethnic cleansing of people of color," he said. "Either way, it is something that people of color cannot afford."

Standing across the street from Rubio's Jacksonville office, they decried the Republican-drafted tax reform plan for benefiting the wealthy and harming lower-income Americans-particularly minorities, children, the elderly and working families-for raising the national deficit, and taking healthcare coverage from millions.

"[This plan] gives the richest 1 percent and corporations a huge tax cut ... it cuts the corporate tax rate from 35 percent to 20 and eliminates estate tax that really only benefits people like our president," said Joey McKinnon of Faith in Public Life, the multid denominational faith group that organized the press conference.

Steps away from Sen. Marco Rubio’s Jacksonville office, a group of Jacksonville preachers thundered against the “immoral” tax bill in the U.S. Senate Tuesday. The rhetoric they used was trenchant. Rev. Linda D. Girouex called the plan “economic genocide.” Elder Lee Harris of the of the African-American Ministers Leadership Conference expressed similar sentiments, saying the plan “will destroy certain people,” including poor people and people of color. Calling the plan “neo-slavery” and saying it amounted to “ethnic cleansing of people of color,” Harris likened it to “chattel slavery ... Jim Crow ... mass incarceration” in its impact, which would include cuts to Medicaid and food stamps, while removing the ability to deduct student loan interest payments. “Plantations grow bigger, and only the plantation owners reap the benefits,” Harris said. Pastor Avery Garner described the “unholy contract” as an “attack on American families,” before making a direct appeal to Sen. Rubio. “I have seen that you have your own doubts about this legislation,” Garner said. “You can vote no.”

This legislation primarily benefits corporations and wealthy individuals while adding $1.5 trillion to our federal debt. Among those most adversely affected are many of us living in Illinois' 6th Congressional District. As a personal example, this bill will increase my income taxes by several thousand dollars because of the elimination of the state income tax deduction, limitations on the property tax deduction and elimination of personal exemptions. Our Congressman, Rep. Peter Roskam, who had an influential role in passage of the legislation, would have us believe differently. He contends that his constituents will see large tax cuts, tens of thousands of new jobs and increased incomes. These claims are based on questionable analysis prepared by the Koch funded Tax Foundation, which uses a supply side (i.e., trickle down) macroeconomic model that does not hold up in reality.

Non-millionaire Iowans who clearly have wasted too much of their hard-earned money on booze, women and movies descended upon Chuck Grassley's offices today to deliver empty bottles of alcohol to their esteemed senator.

Actually, it was a protest organized by several progressive groups to express voters' outrage over Grassley's recent insulting comments aimed at working people. Iowa Citizen Action Network, the Main Street Alliance of Iowa and Americans for Democratic Action Iowa held rallies outside of the senator's offices in Des Moines and Waterloo this afternoon. Tax reform proposals from both the House and Senate make sweeping changes to the tax benefits that homeowners have enjoyed for years. Unfortunately, if the current federal tax proposals stay as they are, this is likely to change. Here’s why:

Roughly 1.2 million Kentucky residents own their own home, and over 381,000 (roughly 32 percent) claimed a deduction for mortgage interest (MID). If the federal plan doubles the standard deduction and removes most of the exemptions available, however, many fewer homeowners would itemize their taxes, essentially taking the MID and other off the table. But wait, there’s more.

In order for the U.S. to stay competitive with other countries in math, science, engineering, technology and innovation we need to be producing quality Ph.D. and master's students. The current model supports a system in which those that are financially disadvantaged can still obtain a Ph.D. That is because Ph.D. students have their tuition waived and they receive a stipend.

At the University of Louisville, one semester tuition for a graduate student who is a resident of Kentucky is $6,123 or $12,743 for non-residents. This amount decreases to $1,417 once the student is done with classes and passes their qualifying exam, formally making them Ph.D. students. No taxes are paid on tuition, just on stipends. Stipend amounts vary by program but are around $25,000 a year.

Another day and another group of protesters descended on Sen. Susan Collins' office in Portland to express their unhappiness with the Maine Republican's vote for the Senate version of a tax reform plan working its way through Congress. The protest Friday drew about 30 people, predominantly students from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, and followed one Thursday that ended with nine religious leaders arrested at Collins' office at One Canal Plaza. The religious leaders were charged with criminal trespass when they refused to leave at the end of the day when her office closed.

Singing “This little light of mine” as they were restrained with zip-ties by Portland police, nine Maine faith leaders were arrested at the office of Sen. Susan Collins on Thursday evening after staging a pray-in to protest her initial vote for legislation that gives new tax breaks for wealthy individuals and corporations while forcing cuts to health care and other vital programs.

“In the United States we are experiencing a massive redistribution of wealth from the bottom to the top, from the poor to the rich. The tax bill currently before Congress, if passed, will simply exacerbate that problem. As a person of faith, I believe that this is an affront to God. As an American, I believe that it will do profound damage to our country’s social fabric. We are better than this, and we must regain our moral footing,” said Rev. Jim Gertmenian of the United Church of Christ in a statement released Thursday.

Nearly two hundred people chanted “bullshit” outside the Portland office of Senator Susan Collins Wednesday afternoon, one day after the Republican attempted to walk back claims that the widely unpopular GOP tax bill would pay for itself. It’s actually projected to create at least a trillion dollar deficit, threatening bedrock government programs including Medicare and Social Security.

Collins has been under fire since voting for the widely unpopular bill this weekend and is now facing even more pushback after it appears she tried to justify her vote with a series of false statements.

Last Friday, Maine Senator Susan Collins traded in what remained of her legacy to push forward a massive tax cut to corporations and America's wealthiest, based on a set of assurances from her Republican colleagues about the final outcome of the bill that she has little power to ultimately compel or enforce.

Becoming the decisive 51st senator to sign on to the Senate Republicans' tax bill before it passed in the early hours of Saturday morning, Collins placed her stamp of approval on a legislative process that was so outrageous that the final bill included more than half a trillion dollars of new cuts and spending that had undergone no committee hearings or public debate, and included provisions that were proposed with so little preparation that they were literally handwritten into the margins of the original draft of the legislation. To call this process a break from the norms of Senate process would be a dramatic understatement, and yet, Collins—who earlier this year voted against her party's attempts to repeal the Affordable Care Act partially on the grounds that the bill was being rammed through the Senate without any semblance of regular order—seemed genuinely unconcerned.

According to the Urban Institute's and Brookings Institution's nonpartisan Tax Policy Center, over the next decade, nearly 80 percent of the benefits will go to the top 1 percent of all households, and 40 percent to the top one-tenth of 1 percent. To pay for these windfalls to the ultra-wealthy, the many budget cuts that will hurt Maine's youth, seniors and the poor include:

Back from their Thanksgiving vacation, Senate Republicans are devoting much of their attention to a tax cut plan they hope to pass by the end of the year. Rather than a rushed package of changes that disproportionately benefits the wealthy and corporations, lawmakers should slow down and fully consider the best ways to help middle-class Americans and small businesses. Numerous analyses of the proposed Senate tax plan, which is not finalized, and a plan passed by House Republicans earlier this month have found that the plans' benefits flow mostly to rich Americans and large corporations and that many average-income Americans will pay higher taxes in a decade. One reason is that while corporate tax cuts are permanent in the legislation, tax changes for individuals and families will expire.

I don't fault the logic of the super-rich people who want to get more and more money: The cost of lobbying and controlling members of Congress keeps going up, and a steady stream of big checks is the price of admission to good schools, glitzy parties and attendance at "conferences" and "summits" in places like Aspen and Colorado Springs.

HOUGHTON/HANCOCK — Members of the Houghton and Baraga County Democrats and other concerned citizens marched to protest the GOP tax bill pending in Congress. The group carried signs across the Portage Lake Lift Bridge Saturday morning. Walking from the Houghton side into Hancock protesters waved to passing cars, attempting to raise awareness. A few drivers honked and waved back.

Tax reform is speeding to a vote in the House and in the Senate. The centerpiece is a substantial reduction in U.S. corporate tax so that corporate tax rates, which are now nominally as high as 35 percent, may sink to 20 percent, thereby — we are told — enabling U.S. corporations to be robustly competitive in an international market filled with countries that have low corporate taxes. When corporate taxes are hugely reduced, someone has to pick up the slack. The overall tax burden of individuals will inescapably increase under what Congress chooses to call reform.

During the half-hour protest, organizers said they think the tax bills were written without the input of ordinary citizens. People at the protest also said the changes could harm average Americans, like senior citizens and graduate students.

Several of them also headed inside to voice their concerns to a Blunt spokesperson, hoping the Senator will vote "no." Some in the faith community say the bill will benefit the rich and not the poor and middle class. The protestors are also upset about the possibility of a provision to the bill, that could do away with the Affordable Care Act.

Reports indicate it won't help workers and it won't increase wages, but it will give a massive tax cut to the wealthy, to corporations already not paying their fair share, and to Donald Trump himself. Congresswoman Vicky Hartzler and Sens. Roy Blunt and Claire McCaskill should distance themselves from this bill and think about what best represents what their constituents need. The plan put forward is not an opportunity to show off bipartisan bona fides; it's a trap that will give the wealthy and corporations a huge tax break while doing nothing for the middle class and forcing huge cuts to programs people rely on, like Medicaid.

November 21, 2017

Don't believe the hype. The GOP's proposed "tax reform" would not help small business owners like me. The proposed corporate tax cuts would benefit hedge fund managers, Wall Street lawyers and real estate investors, and would be paid for by cutting public services that benefit my business and help my customers save money. Atlantic County can't afford these cuts. Transportation and telecommunications infrastructures need an upgrade. Many residents rely on programs like Medicaid for health care. We need to better train and educate the workforce to attract more companies to the area. My small business can only survive and thrive if government invests in the community. The GOP tax cuts would do just the opposite.

Their plans involve stripping trillions of dollars from Medicaid, Medicare and programs that help people afford housing, education and other essentials. All this to pay for tax cuts that won't help small business owners like me, because we don't generate enough profit to benefit from them. But those tax cuts will benefit hedge fund managers, Wall Street lawyers, multinational corporations — companies that really don't need another advantage over small business. If the GOP want to help small business owners, they need to come up with different tax and budget plans.

November 13, 2017

More than one in four New Jersey residents would face tax hikes under Republican legislation that sharply curtails the federal deduction for state and local taxes, according to a study released last week. That's a higher percentage than in all but two states. Invited guests at the fire house in Ocean County town wrote their questions down and MacArthur, R-3rd Dist., dished them to Trump and Mnuchin. But there were a few heated exchanges. Jason Ireland, of Brick, was denied entry and asked loudly why Democrats were blocked from attending the event. As the session was winding down, MariAnne Clemente, of Barnegat, interrupted Trump's closing remarks and demanded they take more questions from the audience. The event was held just before Gov.-elect Phil Murphy and other Democrats trashed the Republican tax plan as a new report was released maintaining that it would still hurt New Jersey taxpayers even with the new House provision for property tax deductions.

The Press of Atlantic City: Ivanka Trump, Mnuchin push for GOP tax package in Ocean County

November 13, 2017

During the 45-minute event, U.S. Rep. Tom MacArthur, R-3rd, Trump and Mnuchin discussed the proposed tax reform, but did not take questions from the pro-Republican crowd. Those attended were allowed to fill out questions card before the event; those questions were given to the trio. As the event wrapped up, Marianne Clemente questioned the panel on why questions weren't taken. The outburst drew the ire of many in the crowd. "This is an outrage that they had an invite only, when MacArthur doesn't have any town hall meetings," said Clemente, a resident of Barnegat. Before the event started, Jason Ireland, of Brick, came inside the venue and yelled "Why are not Democrats allowed?" Ireland was one of the 30 people gathered outside the fire hall to protest the tax reform plan. The protesters held signs voicing their disapproval of the plan, one read "GOP Tax Bills Bad for NJ", while another person held a sign stating: "Tom MacArthur vote no on tax bill." "They are trying to rush it through," said Carla Loundsbury, 68, of Waretown, as she held a "RIP Middle Class" mock head stone. "This is going to hurt the middle class and no one seems to care." Proposals in Congress pose problems for New Jersey, where property taxes are among the nation's highest.

Inside the drab building on Route 9 were Republican Gov. Chris Christie, presidential adviser and first daughter Ivanka Trump and Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin, who pushed tax reform. There were about 100 guests listening in the invite-only crowd. Outside, on a soggy patch of grass and in a drizzle, uninvited voices were hoping to be heard. "No tax cuts for the mega-rich." "Stop Mnuchin on our deductions." "No more pencils no more books, GOP are dirty crooks!" their signs said. About 35 people converged to protest. They urged reporters to ask who was invited, since they were not. Host Congressman Tom MacArthur, an Ocean County Republican, later told the press that guests were "people from around the county." Many protesters said the tax reform plans being pushed by President Donald Trump and Republicans in the House and Senate would benefit the rich, not the middle class.

Since New Jersey has the nation's highest property taxes — on average more than $8,000 — its middle-class households are on shaky ground. About 100 people gathered Monday, a drizzly November morning, at the modest fire hall off Route 9 for an invitation-only event. It started with an introduction from Gov. Chris Christie and ended 38 minutes later with nary a question from MacArthur to Ivanka Trump or Mnuchin about the SALT deductions. About 35 people protested the event outside the fire hall. Among them was Jason Ireland, of Brick, who tried to push his way into the crowded fire hall, but was stalled by security at the door. And on Monday, the New Jersey Business and Industry Association, a business lobby group, said it too was opposed to the bills' elimination of state and local property tax deductions. It was left to MacArthur, whose ties to the first family include a lucrative fundraiser hosted by Donald Trump in June, to defend.

By Karen Wall
November 13, 2017

In front of a room of Republican supporters, Rep. Tom MacArthur, Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin and Ivanka Trump pressed a singular message on Monday morning: that the proposed tax reform will help New Jersey's families. It was a message that was warmly received by most inside the Bayville Fire Company firehouse on Monday morning. Outside the firehouse, however, more than three dozen protesters gathered on the front lawn of the firehouse in the rain to give a cold shoulder to not only the tax reform proposal but to MacArthur in particular. They held signs urging MacArthur to vote against the tax reform bill. One couple, Jason and Nancy Ireland from Brick, tried to get into the room before Mnuchin and Trump arrived but were rebuffed by MacArthur's staff. "Are there any Democrats in here?" Jason Ireland yelled two or three times, demanding the opportunity to get in and ask questions about the tax reform bills. The couple was forced to leave. The blinds were drawn and the doors locked to prevent anyone from going in or out of the door. MacArthur read a couple of questions from audience members, but there was no open opportunity to ask questions of Mnuchin or Trump on the tax reform bill.

And there were at least four times as many people standing in the rain outside protesting the Trump/MacArthur reverse Robin Hood tax code.

The indoor event was by invitation only and no Democrats were allowed into the taxpayer-funded venue. But neither that nor the rain stopped activists from protesting the draconian changes being proposed by the Trump administration.

The group's data, culled from corporate news releases, media reports, analysts and its own research, show that only 6.3 million workers are getting a one-time bonus or pay hike tied to the cuts. That compares with a total U.S. workforce of 155.2 million, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The ATF analysis shows 126 companies have received $60.8 billion in total tax cuts, which it claims is nine times more than the $6.5 billion workers have received in bonuses and pay increases. Corporations, their data show, have spent 37 times more on stock buybacks than worker bonuses or raises since the law was enacted.

An anti-tax reform group met Wednesday to talk about the many different ways the reform effort will be harsh on ----small businesses, families and people needing medical assistance.

“The tax reform bill, as currently proposed, would hurt small businesses, push people to give up health insurance because they will no longer be eligible for federal government-approved assistance under the Affordable Care Act and it will encourage some businesses to send their work overseas,” Marcia Dinkins, co-founder and director of Valley Voices United for Change said.

The group is concerned the bill will use profits from the repeal of the Affordable Care Act to pay for permanent tax cuts for large corporations. The Congressional Budget Office predicts the bill would result in 13 million more uninsured people and premium increases of up to 10 percent.

Americans for Tax Fairness, a liberal group that recently started a website detailing what corporations are doing with their tax cuts, which dropped the corporate rate to 21% from 35%, says workers are not getting their fair share.

The group's data, culled from corporate news releases, media reports, analysts and its own research, show that only 6.3 million workers are getting a one-time bonus or pay hike tied to the cuts. That compares with a total U.S. workforce of 155.2 million, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The ATF analysis shows 126 companies have received $60.8 billion in total tax cuts, which it claims is nine times more than the $6.5 billion workers have received in bonuses and pay increases. Corporations, their data show, have spent 37 times more on stock buybacks than worker bonuses or raises since the law was enacted.

The GOP is not trumpeting another alarming truth about this bill – it eliminates several deductions that benefit middle and lower income taxpayers. This means the burden increases on small businesses and people who can least afford it. While high-earners on Wall Street are enjoying their tax-break windfall, we on Main Street will see Medicaid, Medicare, and education cut by trillions because politicians claim a lack of funding. Small business owners and their customers will have less disposable income to spend, less security, and a bleaker future.

With Corker not expressing explicit support or opposition to this bill specifically, Susan Whitlow, an organizer from the Sullivan County Democratic Party, said protesters hoped to persuade the senator to oppose the legislation. She said the bill many are calling "tax reform" would be more accurately referred to as a tax cut for the wealthy. "This tax bill is immoral, and our senator said that he won't vote for any tax bill that raises the deficit by one penny. If he means that, he can't vote for this because it's going to raise it by a bunch," she said. "Temporarily, it will cut taxes for the middle class. Permanently, it will only cut taxes for the extremely wealthy and for wealthy corporations. In five years, the middle class and lower class will be paying more in taxes."

The main criticism health care advocates and organizations across the state — including the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association and National Organization for Rare Disorders — lodged against the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act was its similarity to the failed Graham-Cassidy Bill, which sought to roll back many of the provisions of the Affordable Care Act, including the individual mandate.

The West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy, West Virginia Citizen Action Group and West Virginians for Affordable Health Care — all left-leaning groups — and others held a news conference Tuesday morning at Covenant House in Charleston. "That means we're either going to grow our deficit or we're going to force spending cuts to vital investments like health care, education and job training," said Caitlin Cook, spokeswoman for the West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy. "These tax cuts are not paid for up front. That means low- and middle-income Americans are going to be footing the bill for the permanent changes to the corporate tax code. "West Virginia's Congressional delegation should be working to advance tax policies that actually invest in our working families while ensuring that tax cuts are paid for by closing loopholes and other responsible measures," Cook said.

THE biggest losers from the GOP tax plans would be the 87 million middle class families facing higher taxes, plus the 13 million people who would lose their healthcare. The biggest winners? Millionaires and corporations, of course.

Chief among those corporations: America's top drug makers. Pharmaceutical firms will get tens of billions of dollars in tax cuts on their offshore profits alone, while continuing to gouge consumers with ever-higher prices.

Fnews.me: The 15 richest families could reap $300 billion from Republican tax cuts

Mother Jones spoke with Americans for Tax Fairness, an advocacy group focused on progressive tax reform, about how these changes to the estate tax will benefit the ultra-wealthy, specifically the top 15 richest Americans, as ranked and reported by Forbes. If the exemptions are doubled, each estate would save $4.4 million for a couple, or $2.2 million for a single person. And if the tax is repealed, that's where things get interesting: According to numbers crunched by Americans for Tax Fairness, in that scenario, the people who inherit money from this tiny group of people could potentially save more than a whopping $300 billion combined. And the families of GOP-megadonors Charles and David Koch could collectively save nearly $39 billion, while the heirs of Republican kingmaker and moneyman Sheldon Adelson could be looking at $14 billion.
