

SIX-MONTH REPORT CARD ON THE TRUMP-GOP TAX CUTS

Maine Corporations Get a Failing Grade for Not Sharing Their Tax Cuts With Workers

President Trump and GOP lawmakers promised that their corporate tax cuts would spur employers to boost wages by at least \$4,000 a year, dramatically increase investment and create a lot of new jobs. But six months after its passage, an analysis by Americans for Tax Fairness (ATF) shows:

- Very few Maine corporations are giving their workers a pay hike through one-time bonuses or wage increases due to the tax cuts.
- Corporations getting big tax cuts are mostly sharing their windfall with CEOs and wealthy shareholders.
- Few Maine corporations are making new investments and creating jobs that wouldn't have occurred anyway.

The Trump-GOP tax cuts were a huge giveaway to the wealthy and corporations and will cost nearly $2 trillion over 10 years, according to the non-partisan Congressional Budget Office. The huge deficits caused by the tax cuts have given President Trump and his congressional allies an excuse to demand massive cuts to Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, education, and other services for working families. In fact, Trump proposed $1.7 trillion in cuts to these very services and programs in his budget plan in February.

That $4,000 pay hike will never materialize because few corporations are sharing their tax cuts with employees or making new investments that will raise workers' wages down the road. Instead, corporations are sharing their newfound wealth with already rich shareholders and CEOs through stock buybacks and increased dividends. Stock buybacks overwhelmingly benefit the wealthy because they own most corporate stock.
